

INDICTED WOMAN AWAITING TRIAL

Mrs. Bridge Returns to Staunton to Answer Charge of Killing Husband.

Staunton, Va., September 27.—Hopeful of a speedy removal of the clouds of suspicion that have hung over her through dreary months, Mrs. Nanie Trevillian Bridge returned to Staunton on Thursday to await trial in the Circuit Court in October for the killing of her husband, who died under mysterious circumstances at Basic City after he had eaten cream tarts that were prepared by his wife. Notwithstanding the suspense that was endured during the summer, and despite the grief caused by the parting with her children, she is in good health and spirits.

Mrs. Bridge spent the hot months with her children, who are being cared for by relatives. The two little boys are with uncles in West Virginia, and the girl is with cousins at Salem. It was necessary for the mother to divide her time as between the two places to permit a reunion of the family.

Virginia Bridge will come to Staunton in the next few days and will remain with her mother during the trying period that is ahead. Mrs. Bridge will have the local support also of her sister, Mrs. Edmonia Miller, with whom she is residing, and of her brothers. Neighbors have sent messages of sympathy from Basic City, so she will be no means friendless when she goes into court to battle for acquittal. The little boys will remain in West Virginia. Both are going to school, and both are doing well, and are fairly content, though neither has quite overcome his longing to be back at the old home in Basic.

So far as public knowledge goes, there have been no developments in the death last mystery during the summer. Apparently, the case now stands exactly where it was on the Sunday on which Clint Bridge died. It is possible, however, that new evidence has been discovered, knowledge of which has been kept from the public. In his investigation Commonwealth's Attorney Hugh Kerr has had the assistance of Chief of Police Lipscomb and W. T. Palmer.

DEBATE IN SENATE ON PETERSON BILL

Measure for Protection of Uniforms of Army, Navy and Militia in North Carolina.

Raleigh, N. C., September 27.—There was a lively debate in the Senate today on the Peterson bill for the protection of the uniforms of the army and navy and militia in North Carolina. Senator Mason insisted that it seemed an attempt to regulate society, that sometimes people wearing the uniform were afflicted with the disease of "assumptions," and he did not doubt that at times some of them made themselves obnoxious in public places, and he should like to see the bill introduced in the House at an early date.

Senator Phillips offered a bill to make "Good Roads Days" November 2 and 3, public holidays.

In the House all the constitutional amendment proposals from the amendment commission, except that as to reading the Bible in the public schools, came from the Amendments Committee with favorable report. The amendment as to the Bible was reserved by the committee for a public hearing in joint session with the Senate committee on Monday.

The Justice Joint resolution, memorializing Congress as to interstate rates, came from the Committee on Public Service Corporation.

The House voted to take up regular consideration of the constitutional amendment proposals in committee at the whole next Tuesday.

A bill was introduced by Mr. Bunn to incorporate the North Carolina Association of Workers for the Blind.

A bill to increase the salary of the paymaster-general of the North Carolina National Guard from $200 to $1,000 was referred to committee after considerable show of hostility. The Senate and House adjourned to Monday.

Representative E. J. Justice is preparing a bill assigned to apply to the Minnesota scale of interstate rates in North Carolina with a view of getting reductions in interstate rates for North Carolina. He has held a conference with a number of the members of the House Committee of Public Service Corporations, and President Tate, of the Just Freight Rate Association, and

FOUND DEAD WITH BULLET IN HEAD

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Salisbury, N. C., September 27.—I. Litman, aged fifty-six years, a well-known citizen of Salisbury, was found dead late to-night in the fourth story of the tower of the main building at the Fair Grounds, near this city. A bullet hole was in his head, which is believed to have been self-inflicted. He left home early this morning, and failed to get back at noon for dinner, his family gave an alarm, calling upon officers to institute a search. He was found by a party of negroes who were holding a dance at the Fair Grounds to-night. Coroner Summersett will hold an inquest. Mr. Litman was proprietor of the Litman Mills Company, and formerly was a wholesale grocer here. He is survived by a wife, one son and one daughter. Recently he had shown evidence of being mentally unbalanced.

BAPTISTS OPPOSE LIQUOR AT FAIR

Blackwater Association Ends Largely Attended Convention at Newsoms.

Suffolk, Va., September 27.—The Blackwater Baptist Association closed the largest attended convention of recent years at Newsoms Thursday, having met in the Newsoms Baptist Church. They will meet next year in Colosse Baptist Church on the Tuesday after the third Sunday in September. Rev. T. M. Green, of Boykin, will preach the introductory sermon. Rev. J. G. Barbe, of Bacon's Castle, was elected the association delegate to the Southern Baptist Convention, which meets in Nashville, Tenn. The executive committee of the association is composed of R. E. L. Watkins, Rev. J. L. King, Rev. T. S. Dunaway, A. L. Gardner and P. P. Deans.

Lieutenant-Governor Elyson was present and spoke on education. There were many splendid reports on church progress. There are twenty-nine churches in the Blackwater Association, an increase of one church over last year, located at Burdette.

There is a total membership of 6,227, an increase over last year of 172; 307 baptisms, 56 more than last year; an increase of $1,111.42 over last year was shown in contributions to the different boards. There was an amount of $10,766.99 contributed to mission boards and $3,555.39 contributed to home purposes.

The Sunday school report showed 4,612 persons engaged in Sunday school work, 174 more adult church members this year than last.

The association passed resolutions condemning the sale of intoxicants at the State Fair, and asked the fair officials to have such sales prohibited.

The association expressed delight at the hospitality extended by the Newsoms Church, whose pastor is the Rev. J. H. Percy. This church has had recently added to its four Sunday school rooms, which can be so arranged as to become parts of the main auditorium. The church has been recently painted and papered, and a handsome carpet laid. The congregation also owns a pretty and comfortable parsonage.

DECLARE SULZER SOLICITED FROM RACING ELEMENT

will not be done, unless the Governor absolutely insists upon taking the stand. It is believed that the appearance of the Governor on the witness stand will result in the calling of Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany leader, as witness, and this is something that neither the Sulzer attorneys nor the counsel for the board of managers desire.

However, Governor Sulzer spent a large portion of to-day preparing a statement to be made before the impeachment court, and this is known to contain a bitter charge against the Tammany chieftain. If the Governor takes the advice of his counsel, who represent him before the trial court and is guided by the advice of the "Kitchen Cabinet," this address will be delivered before the impeachment court and it will then be necessary for the Sulzer counsel to subpoena Murphy.

Rumors of Friction.
Rumors are already being circulated in Albany that friction has developed between the two branches of the Governor's advisers. The counsel representing the Governor before the trial court were amazed at the testimony offered this week by Henry Morgenthau and other witnesses, and they will be loath to allow their client to take the witness stand unless the Governor sees fit to take his chief counsel into his confidence.

Despite every effort to impress upon the Governor the seriousness of the charges facing him, he insists that there is absolutely nothing to the charges, and asserts that he can dispose of them in a few words.

Again Expresses Confidence.

While consulting with one of his attorneys to-day, the Governor said: "Don't worry about me. I shall come out of this with flying colors. I have just begun to fight, and even if I am convicted, there will be a political revolution which will destroy my enemies and leave me unscathed."

James C. Garrison, Sulzer's associate, who was sent to jail for contempt of the Assembly, was again remanded to the Albany penitentiary by Justice Cochrane, and a higher court grants his petition for a writ of habeas corpus, Garrison will have to remain in jail until October 6, when the Assembly reconvenes.

What Prosecution Claims.
The summary of what the prosecution claims to have shown since the trial began is:

That the law required a statement of campaign expenditures under oath to be made.

That Governor Sulzer made such a statement.

That he showed receipts of $5,460.

That he received four times that sum.

That he personally used thousands of dollars devoted to his campaign, and for which he did not account in his sworn statement.

That an account was kept with Boyer, Griswold & Co., through which were bought 300 shares of Big Four stock, part payment for which was made with seven checks donated to the Sulzer campaign.

Bank Account Grows.

That Governor Sulzer had a bank account with the Armours Loan and Trust Co., which grew to the extent of $11,000 during the campaign.

That he had another account in the name of his secretary largely exceeding the reported campaign contributions.

That he asked Ambassador Morgenthau to testify that a contribution of $1,000 was a personal kindness to him and not a political donation.

That he asked Duncan W. Peck to deny under oath that Peck gave $500 in cash.

Points which counsel for Governor Sulzer claim have been favorable to the defense.

That a portion of the witnesses, in contributing to the Governor's campaign, did not limit him in his expenditures to political or party purposes.

SAUNDERS FREED ON LIBEL CHARGE

Jury Reaches Verdict After Considering Case for Several Hours.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Elizabeth City, N. C., September 27.—The jury in the Saunders libel trial reached a verdict of not guilty this morning, after having had the case since 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. This ended one of the longest trials and hardest fought legal battles ever conducted in this county. Nine days were consumed in trying this case, and some of the best lawyers in the State took part in it.

W. O. Saunders, editor of the Independent, was on trial upon the charge of criminal libel on E. F. Ayldett, one of Eastern North Carolina's wealthiest and most prominent lawyers. The suit grew out of articles published in Saunders's paper in regard to business transactions which took place between Mr. Ayldett and the Browns, of New York, several years ago. This was the third libel trial Saunders has stood within the past two months. He was acquitted in each trial.
